

Channel Name: EcoForge Network

Creator: Sarah Jenkins

Channel Description & Content: EcoForge Network is a DIY and education channel dedicated to turning everyday household waste into functional, modern furniture and art. My content ranges from step-by-step upcycling tutorials to mini-documentaries highlighting local recycling facilities.

Community & Social Impact: Over the past year, we launched the “#ForgeForGood” campaign, encouraging our 1.2 million subscribers to clean up local parks and use the collected materials for community art installations. We’ve seen over 50,000 viewer-submitted projects. Our Discord server acts as a hub for makers to share sustainable blueprints and collaborate on local environmental initiatives.

Environmental Sustainability: Sustainability is the core of our channel. Not only is the content focused on reducing landfill waste, but our production studio runs entirely on solar power, and we offset 100% of our carbon footprint from travel.

Insights: Our analytics show a 40% year-over-year growth, primarily driven by viewers aged 18-24, indicating a strong desire among younger demographics for actionable climate-positive content. Our average view duration is exceptionally high at 65%, proving that viewers are highly engaged with our educational storytelling.
